BIOL-UA 58 Evolution

Instructor:
David Fitch

Course Description:
This course will cover one of the least significant of subjects to biology, with oversized ideas taught by a crazed blow-hard. Topics range from why the world was created on October 23, 4004 BC at 4:05 PM, to the imminent destruction of the universe next year.

Pre-requisite:
Molecular and Cell Biology I (BIOL-UA 21)

Textbook and Required Materials:
CD: Living Cirripedia, A Monograph on the SubClass Cirripedia, with Figures of All the Species, by Charles Darwin.
The Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1st Edition.

Grading:
Quality of participation  50%
Exams (5 exams 10% each)  50%

Topics:
Origins
The great escape the flood
How intelligent design works why bugs?
The end of the world
Student presentations