Environment and Society
ENVST-UA 101
Spring 2017
Tuesday/Thursday 2:00 - 3:15
Location TBD

Please note that you must also sign up for a required recitation (002-007)

Professor:
David Kanter (david.kanter@nyu.edu; 998-3876), office hours Thursday 3:30-5:00 or by appointment @ 285 Mercer, 9th fl

Description:
A systematic survey of central concepts and issues relating to environment and society including environmental history and concepts of nature and the environment; the rise of environmentalism; environmental skepticism; anthropogenic global change; population and consumption, ecological footprint analysis and other environmental indicators; environmental justice; public goods and collective action problems; regulatory regimes; environmental politics; environmental movements; environmental values; environmental protest and disobedience; and the future of environmentalism. This course is a gateway to the Environmental Studies major and minor, and one of its core courses. It will cover a very significant amount of demanding material, in order to prepare students for upper-level courses. This course will be challenging, and students should expect a steep learning curve. Teaching Assistants will be available to help students along the way.

Reading:
Texts will be made available via NYU Classes

Requirements:
You are required to attend every lecture and recitation and do all of the assigned reading. In addition you are required to write 3 essays of 750-1000 words. You will have the option of rewriting one of the first 2 papers in response to comments, but with no guarantee of an improved grade. For each assignment you will have the choice of writing an essay on one of about 3 topics. Late papers will only be accepted if you have a very good excuse and notify your TA by the due date at the latest. The only exceptions to this policy are at the absolute discretion of the instructors and will result in a reduced grade. Paper 1 will be assigned 2/21 and is due by midnight on 2/28; paper 2 will be assigned on 3/28 and is due by midnight on 4/4. Paper 3 will be assigned on 5/2 and is due by midnight on 5/11. Optional rewrites are due by midnight on 5/4. In addition you will be required to post questions or comments on the readings eight times during the semester (no more than one posting per class). You will also be graded for attendance and participation in your recitation. If you need to miss a class or recitation, or you fall ill, please contact your recitation leader or one of the professors ASAP. Missing more than one recitation without permission will negatively impact your grade. “A lot” of absences (i.e. five or more recorded by your recitation leader) will cut your attendance grade by around half. “A couple” of absences (i.e. 2-3 recorded by your recitation leader) will reduce it by about 10%.

Grading:
The essays will determine 60% of your grade, postings 20%, and attendance and participation in recitation 20%

Plagiarism and Academic Support:
Plagiarism results in failure in the class and referral to your academic dean. Examples of plagiarism include: copying sentences or fragments from any source without quotes and references; not citing a source used in your papers; citing internet information without proper citation; presenting someone else’s work as your own; or inadvertently copying verbatim from any source.
