

YEAR ZERO:
MORE-THAN-HUMAN WORLDING AFTER 1945

Friday, February 22, 2019 / 10AM-5PM
19 Washington Square North, New York City
<http://as.nyu.edu/xs/events/2018-2019/YearZero.html>

AGENDA

9-10AM coffee and tea

OPENING 10:00 – 10:15AM

Una Chaudhuri, Experimental Humanities & Social Engagement / NYU
Elaine Gan, Experimental Humanities & Social Engagement / NYU

SESSION 1 10:15 – NOON

Orit Halpern: "The Planetary Test"

Sociology and Anthropology; Arts, Culture, and Technology / Concordia University

Lisa Gitelman: "Metadata"

Media, Culture, and Communication; English / NYU

Heather Davis, Session Chair

Culture and Media / Eugene Lang College, The New School

12-1:15PM lunch

SESSION 2 1:15 – 3PM

Tiago Saraiva: "Cloning and Cannibalism: Learning How to Live with Sadness in the Plantationocene"

History; Science & Technology Studies / Drexel University

Vanessa Agard-Jones: "Vegetal, Chemical, Beetle"

Anthropology; Women, Gender & Sexuality; African American Studies / Columbia

Elizabeth Hénaff, Session Chair

Integrated Digital Media / NYU

SESSION 3 3 – 5PM

Julie Livingston: "Self-Devouring Growth: A Planetary Parable"

Social & Cultural Analysis; History / NYU

Joseph Masco: "The Artificial World, or The Futurity of Exposure After 1945"

Anthropology; Science & Technology Studies / University of Chicago

Elaine Gan, Session Chair

Experimental Humanities & Social Engagement / NYU

5-6PM wine and cheese

Convened by Elaine Gan and Una Chaudhuri, NYU XE: Experimental Humanities & Social Engagement, Graduate School of Arts & Science, with NYU Abu Dhabi Institute, NYU Department of Anthropology, Department of Environmental Studies, and Environmental Humanities Lecture Series.

NYU

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF ARTS & SCIENCE

NYU

XE

EXPERIMENTAL HUMANITIES &
SOCIAL
ENGAGEMENT

