With unemployment numbers currently at 9.6%, it is critical that students secure internships or employment as quickly as possible. Thanks to the changes in the structure of our spring Koch Internship Program, students and alumni can do both to reflect this growing need.

Interns are now able to work 40 hours a week in a paid position, essentially working a full-time job in DC while undergoing management training.

Graduating or former students who want to start a career in the DC policy discussion can learn more on our website (kochinternshipprogram.org).
