NYU’s Glucksman Ireland House presents

BLACK, BROWN, AND GREEN VOICES

Join us on Zoom as we present conversations on interactions between African Americans and Irish in the U.S. and beyond.

April 30, 1pm: Lenwood Sloan, artist and scholar of dance and popular culture.
May, 14, 1pm: Dedria Humphries Barker, author of Mother of Orphans: The True and Curious Story of Irish Alice, A Colored Man’s Widow (2Leaf Press, 2020).
June, 4, 1pm: Christine Kinealy, author of Black Abolitionists in Ireland (Routledge, 2020).

Presented in collaboration with the African American Irish Diaspora Network and NYPL’s Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture. Grateful for the support of the Consulate General of Ireland. To register: https://as.nyu.edu/irelandhouse/events/Spring2020/black--brown-and-green-voices-zoom-conversation-with-lenwood-slo.html