

-
1. Which event can be considered a conflict brought about in part by a religious reform movement?
 - A) World War I
 - B) Cuban Revolution
 - C) World War II
 - D) Iranian Revolution
 2. In the 1970s, when Iran was ruled by the Shah, the Ayatollah Khomeini's major criticism was of the
 - A) Shah's friendship with the Soviet Union
 - B) return to traditional Islamic law
 - C) lack of political and social rights for women
 - D) non-Islamic influences on the culture and economy
 3. A major cause of the Islamic Revolution in Iran in 1979 was the concern by Islamic leaders that
 - A) traditional values were being undermined by Western ideas
 - B) women were being denied political rights
 - C) Israel had lost its influence in the Middle East
 - D) religious leaders were becoming too powerful
 4. The 1979 Islamic Revolution in Iran was a reaction to the failure of Shah Reza Pahlevi to
 - A) modernize the nation's economy
 - B) meet the social and political needs of the people
 - C) establish political ties with Western nations
 - D) supply the military with advanced weapons technology
 5. The major goal of the Iranian Revolution and of Ayatollah Khomeini was to
 - A) establish closer ties with Israel
 - B) prevent the expansion of communism into Iraq
 - C) nationalize the oil industry
 - D) create an Islamic republic
-