Law and Society students can petition for one course to count towards the minor. This completed form, along with the syllabus of the course being petitioned for credit, must be approved by the Law and Society Minor Program Director, Professor Lynne Haney [lynne.haney@nyu.edu]. Once a decision is rendered, you will be notified via email. No course is guaranteed.

Personal Information:

Name: ____________________________________________________________

N#: __________________________________________________________________

Home School if not CAS: __________________________________________________________________

Class Level: ☐ Freshman ☐ Sophomore ☐ Junior ☐ Senior

NYU Email: __________________________________________________________________

Course Information:

Course Name: __________________________________________________________________

Course #: __________________________________________________________________

Semester and Year Course was taken: __________________________________________________________________

In what Department or School was the course taken: __________________________________________________________________

Reason you are petitioning this course to take the place of a Law and Society course:

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________
Check the requirement you are petitioning for this course to fulfil (course can only count toward one of the following):

☐ Law and Society (LWSOC-UA 1), cross-listed with Politics (POL-UA 335) OR Sociology (SOC-UA 413)

☐ SOC-UA 301 Research Methods or another methods course with approval of the *Program Director.

☐ Elective course

● Remember to attach a copy of the course syllabus.
● Only one course substitution for the minor.
● This petition assesses whether a course may be counted towards Law and Society minor. It does not guarantee acceptance of credits.

Please submit this form, along with the syllabus to: Professor Lynne Haney [lynne.haney@nyu.edu] or deliver to: The Puck Building, Department of Sociology, 4th Floor, Front Desk.