

New York University
Department of Spanish and Portuguese
Luso Brazilian Language and Literature Major

Number of Required Courses: 9 **

Breakdown of Major

All relevant courses in language, literature and culture beyond the Intermediate Portuguese Language are accepted for this major. Portuguese courses at the graduate level and related courses in other departments may also be counted towards the major with the permission of the Director of Undergraduate Studies.

Recommended courses typically offered during the academic year:

Spanish and Portuguese:	Introduction to Latin American Studies (V95.0762) Readings in Portuguese Literature (V87.0811) Modern Brazilian Fiction (V87.0821) The Brazilian Short Story (V87.0830) Night and The City: Brazilian Literature By and About Urban Marginals (V87.0840) Topics in Brazilian Literature & Culture (V87.0850) Graduate Courses, permission required from instructor: Portuguese Literature: The Cancioneiros to Camões (G87.1817) Portuguese Literature: Classicism to the Present (G87.1818) Machado de Assis (G87.2671) Fernando Pessoa (G87.2771) The Wake of Revolution: Fiction from Portugal and Angola (G87.2772) Brazilian Modernismo (G87.2773) Contemporary Brazilian Literature (G87.2810) Brazilian Poetry (G87.2841)
Africana Studies:	African American Folklore (V11.0402)
American Studies:	Race in the Americas (G13.2316 [Graduate Course, permission required])
Anthropology:	Peoples of Latin America (V14.0103) Peoples of Europe: Culture and International Studies (V14.0111)
Cinema Studies:	Third World Cinema (H72.1107 [Graduate Course, permission required]) Brazilian Cinema I, II (H72.2117, 2118 [Graduate Course, permission required])
European Studies:	The Political Economy of Contemporary Europe (V42.0166)
Fine Arts:	Topics in Latin American Art: Colonial to Modern (V43.0316)
History:	History of Colonial Latin America (V57.0743) History of Modern Latin America (V57.0745) Conquest and the Origins of Colonialism (V57.0757)
MAP Courses:	World Cultures: Latin America (V55.0515)
Performance Studies:	Performing Brazil (H42.2320 [Graduate Course, permission required]) Latin American Performance (H42.2381 [Graduate Course, permission required])
Politics:	Politics of Southern Europe (V53.0527) Politics of Latin America (V53.0530) Inter-American Relations (V53.0780)

 Please note that in addition to these course requirements this major also requires knowledge of Portuguese at the level of Intermediate Portuguese Language.